

A decorative border featuring a repeating pattern of red and white squares. The pattern consists of a grid of red squares separated by white squares, creating a checkerboard-like effect. The border is composed of multiple rows and columns of these squares, with the red squares being slightly larger than the white squares. The overall effect is a vibrant, geometric border that frames the central text area.

